A POCAHOATABBLAVEHOLDER. Rather Improbable Yarn via Stauuto

don Cor. Battimore American, Dec. 30. cenes was witnessed a short time ago in the busy streets of the peaceful city of Staunton, in the Valley of Virginia. A curdy mountaineer from Pocahontas county, W. Va., had made his way from his cross the Cheat and Allegheny Mounains, 150 miles to the nearest center of ivilization, to make sale of some stock, civilization, to make sale of some stock, the fluctuations in whose value once sent a throb through the commercial world. In his high and isolated eyrie, enjoying the independent freedom and simplicity of rural life, he had not heard of "wars" alarms," and none of the confusion incident to "secresion" had disturbed the epaceful rounds of his life. He had tended his flocks, cultivated the soil and prospered, until the surplus was beyond his consumption. Reckoned among the wealth that could be disposed of, as no longer necessary for his needs, were two finely built colored men, and it was more particularly to sell these that he had gotten the consent of his mind to make the perilons journey to the nearest point within the pales of civilization. When he asked for a slave-trader with whom he could bargain, to the nearest point within the pales of civilization. When he asked for a slave-trader with whom he could bargain, men who had in their boyhood hard of such a commercial class, looked cariously at each other for an explanation of this peculiar form of lardness, so rare in these piping times of peace. But the old farmer was resolute in ins determination to sell what was his own, and repudiated the suspicion that he was a trank. After a slight hush in the tulk, when the thoughts of the old soldiers present seemed to go back across that awful chasm of war to the time before their convictions were purified of their error by the dreadful baptism of blood, the younger portion of the crowd, seeing the futility of their efforts to make the old fellow comprehend the changed order of things, determined to have some fun. Some old expert, who had once stood on the block and glibly given the points of interest and genealogy of many such an animal, was hunted up, and preparations were made for an old-time auction. The teeth, eyes, limbs, &c., were examined critically, and offers made in cash, none of which, however, satisfied the old man. He declared that they had been reared with the ulmost care, and ied the old man. He declared that they id been reared with the utmost care, and that there was no spot or blemish about them. All were clothed in homespur goods, manufactured in the mountain of humor at the expense of the old man's merry before an explanation was made, declared that "for God dat ar obsercat's got nigh on ter forty yards er jeens in it" But the merriment of the crowd made no mpression on the farmer's idea of his Systematic Roadmaking. A correspondent of the Country Gentleman, writing from Duchess county, New York, says that the town of Amenia, in that county, has tried with marked success the plan of keeping a force of four or five men at work on the highways through most of the year under the supervision of an experienced and skilled builder of roads, who gives his attention constant to the an experienced and skilled builder of roads, who gives his attention constantly to the work. Every part of the seventy-five miles of highway in the town is in good condition, and the expense of keeping it so has been much less than it could have been by the old method. The new plan has greatly relieved the farmers, who have not been called to work on the roads at a time when other duties demanded their attention. New York has a law which directs that the voters of any town may elect to adopt this plan of hiring a force of men and a competent commissioner to make and keep in reby pain nor sneeting. It is not a liquid or Snuff.

Apply by the finger me the normal part of the normal par tent commissioner to make and keep in re-pair the roads of their town, but the plan once adopted must be followed for not less than three years. It has been found that

A detailed and fully attested report of the butter producing performances of the Jersey cow Mary Aune, of St. Lambert's 9,770, for the six months ended with November 30, shows that she made 585 pounds 41 ounces of butter. In the last thirty-one days of this test she gave 675 pounds of milk, from which 71 pounds 3 ounces of unsalted butter were made. Her owner has good reasen to hope that the record of the full year will put his cow above all other cows in the world as a butter maker.

"Well, if we should want 500, what would they cost us?"
After much figuring the Mexican replied that he could furnish them at fifty cents, American money, each.
"And suppose we should want 5,000 of them?" said the official.
"Bilga me Dios!" cried the astonished native, "that is a very immense number."

He made his way in disgust out of the town on the pixe leading back to his home, conscious, no doubt, of his superiority in wealth and position over the jeering crowd which followed him. When last seen he and his dusky property were on their way back home to enjoy a life free from the vices of an unreal civilization. It is probable, however, that by this time the provisions of certain constitutival amendments have been explained to his two body servants, and that there is grief in the Pocahontas county household at the loss of so much property without the possibility of restitation, unless by special act of the two houses of Congress, the President generously concurring.

"Yes, Wall street ought really to be a warm place," said he. "And why?" asked another. "It's well lined with 'lamb's wool," was the sardonic reply.—N. Y.

HEALTH is impossible when the blood is impure, thick and aluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Under such conditions, bolls, pimples, headaches, neuraigia, rheumatiem, and one diseass after another is developed. Take Ayar's Sarssparilla, and it will make the blood pure, rich, warm, and vital'sine.

Flening Irollers:

It affords me pleasure to assure you that after sing Dr. C. McLanc's Celebrated Liver Fills for more than twenty years in my family, that I regard them as being superior to any I have ever used or have seen used. I have not had them constantly and had to try others, and I have tried a good variety, but I have never had any to not so promptly, profitably and nicely as McLanc's. I have used them on myself, wife and children, with the most gratifying results.

For children, having used them on my own with such any and halpy effect, I would recommend the most gratifying results.

For children, having used them on my own with such any and half these pills do the work —do it promptly, to it well, and leave no ill effects belind.

As a bile remover, as a liver corrector, as a forenumer preparing the system for quinine, there is no pill or medicine equal to Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills. I expect to use them as long as I live, if they continue as good as they have been in the past.

Mischievous Malaria. To say that malaria is mischieveus is to put it very mildly. It is all that and more—It is cunning, deceiful, treacherous, sly, and underhanded. It does its work in the dark, and in such a sly way that much of the mis chief is done before it is discovered. It saps the foundations of a healthy system. It robs the blood of its vitality, demoralizes the liver, confounds

MEDICAL

the stomach, and makes the victim wish he were in his grave. It is sad to see peoplesit down in their misery, content to be the victims of mischievous malaria, and thinking that nothing can be done for them. The power of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS over the mischiefs of malaria has been so amply proved that there is no reason why anybody who can procure a bottle of this Prince of Tonics shall suffer. Great is the power of malaria, and great are its disastrous effects. But greater far is the beneficent in-
